New Positions To Try

*Passion
Igniters*

Here is a great method to involve your spouse in a plain dialogue about each other's sexual preferences, without feeling extremely embarrassed.

The questionnaire below can be printed, filled out and shared with your spouse during some personal conversations.

Or, you can fill out the answers privately, trade sheets and spend the next few weeks surprising each other as you see items your spouse has indicated they would like to try.

Finally you might print them out and decide to cover a section every so often sharing your answers out loud.

The extra lines below each topic are for your personal notes

The purpose for this questionnaire is to stimulate open dialogue concerning your sexual activities.

Remember the more open and secure you can be with each other the stronger your relationship and the more enjoyable your sex life will grow.
